

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: October 21, 2015
CONTACT: Jeanine L'Ecuyer, 623-930-2958, Public Information Office

GLENDALE 11 TEAM WINS TWO EMMY® AWARDS City's Super Bowl 49 Coverage Takes Top Honors

GLENDALE, Ariz. – The city's television station, Glendale 11, was honored with two Rocky Mountain Emmy® Awards at the annual Emmy® gala event last Saturday in Scottsdale. Both awards were presented for Glendale's exceptional coverage of Super Bowl XLIX played at University of Phoenix Stadium in February 2015.

The Rocky Mountain Emmy is the industry's most prestigious award, recognizing and rewarding excellence in television broadcasting among broadcast professionals from five states in the region. The Glendale 11 team won in two categories: in Politics/Government News Series for the entry entitled, "Glendale's Got Game Composite"; and in Special Event Coverage (other than news or sports) – Live or Edited for the entry, "Glendale's Got Game: Super Bowl 49."

Assistant City Manager Jennifer Campbell said, "This is an extraordinary professional honor and a perfect example of the high-quality work we do in Glendale. It takes teamwork – involving all city employees – to present a world-class event like the Super Bowl. It is wonderful to see the Glendale 11 team receive this special honor – they've earned it!"

Glendale's coverage of the Super Bowl – and of the weeks leading up to the game – also aired on two other local stations, 3TV and CBS5.

Glendale 11 can be seen 24 hours a day on Cox Channel 11 and on the city's website.

Image 1: Glendale 11 Team at the Emmy gala. (Left to right: Former Glendale employees Julie Watters and Joe Hengemuehler; Joe Larger and Laurie Berg Sapp of Glendale 11.

Image 2: the Rocky Mountain Emmy® Award.

###